Enclosure award chancel repair liability notes

There are total of 118 probable plans on this on this out of a possible 300.

The places listed may well not be the place to where the church with the chancel liability is and a study of the relevant tithe apportionment maybe needed or local history research. The intention of the enclosure act might well be contradicted by the award hence the act award and the plan have to be read together to ascertain what actually happened. If there is an enclosure plan listed it is likely the award will be in the same or related file.

I would guess that about 95% of the places listed will have the liability since some churches will either be redundant or have been rebuilt in a different place or without a chancel. Ordinary rebuilt churches almost certainly retain the liability.

The enclosure awards that do not seem to have a plan but that does not mean that the land is untraceable just that is significantly harder. Plans or awards may well be unreadable or the land so changed that finding any liability is impossible.

Those that are on list that are blank may well have a plan or an award but I can't find them on the web, the other information are possible locations of an award.

The counties and spellings are based on what was correct or known to the Houses of Commons in the late 1830's and may not be correct today.

There are other sources of chancel repair liability in the non-apportioned form including merged land and tithes and Rectory Glebe but this may well be found by looking at tithe apportionment and doing local research.

My church's website carries some further advice <http://www.stmichaelspenkridge.co.uk/chancel.html>
